Pleads Guilty—Domestic Tragedy Averted.

Ogden, Oct. 24.—Austin Tingle, a Union Pacific brakeman, may lose his left leg as the result of his being crushed yesterday between two freight cars at Spring Valley, Wyo., and W. H. Walker, the conductor on the train, had his hand badly cut in the same accident. It was on freight train No. 34 the accident occurred. The trainmen had instructions to take a car out of the train at Spring Valley, and were doing the work when in some manner the signals were misunderstood and the cars were bumped together, crushing Tingle's leg, crushing it badly. He was brought to the Ogden hospital for surgical treatment.

DEATH OF MRS. MATHERS.

Mrs. Mary Mathers, wife of William Mathers and a well known resident of Ogden, died yesterday at her home, 127 Twenty-sixth street, from the effects of blood poisoning. She was 63 years of age. The body was taken to the Ogden hospital for surgical treatment.

FUNERAL OF MRS. CRAWFORD.

A large number of relatives and friends gathered at the Fourth ward mortuary yesterday afternoon to pay a tribute to the memory of Mrs. Louise Crawford, who died Monday, and a wealth of beautiful flowers covered the casket, all evidencing the high esteem in which she was held in Ogden, where she had lived the greater part of her life. Bishop's Countess Hyrum Belmont presided at the services and the ward choir sang several beautiful selections. Orson Griffin sang "O My Father." Many words of comfort were spoken by President C. F. Hilditch, Joseph McFarlane, Mrs. William Reast and Hyrum Belmont, who characterized the deceased as one of Ogden's most patient and obedient daughters, who loved to do right.

CARESWELL PLEADS GUILTY.

George Carswell, the Chicago portrait agent who was arrested a short time ago on the charge of running away with Alice Ford of Salt Lake City and living with her as wife, pleaded guilty before Judge Howell to the charge and was sentenced to five years in the penitentiary. He was first charged with a felony, but later the charge was reduced so that the punishment can be nothing more than a county jail sentence.

DOMESTIC TRAGEDY AVERTED.

In a Twenty-fifth street restaurant last evening a serious domestic tragedy was barely averted. A man and a woman entered the restaurant and ordered a meal. After the meal had been served another woman entered with a gun, who, it transpired, was the wife of the man in the case. The angry woman was pacified after the police were called in and the trouble was settled without any bloodshed, the man leaving the restaurant in company with his wife.

PROVO.

MOVE AGAINST VARMIN.

Sheepmen Will Unite With Government to Exterminate Wolves, Etc.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Oct. 23.—The stockmen on the Utah national forest have joined in an effort to rid the range of the predatory animals, now so destructive to the interests of stockmen. The matter has been under head for some time, and today W. L. Pack, supervisor of the Utah national forest, was advised from Washington, D. C., that the government had decided to appropriate $500 toward the extermination of pests from the Utah national forest this winter. District No. 12 has promised $400, and other districts have promised support enough to induce Mr. Pack to believe that $1,000 will be raised to fight the coyotes and wild cats on the reserve. Owing to the great activity on the part of the sheep men in the matter, Mr. Pack has permitted them to choose the men who are to do the hunting and trapping. Eight men will be selected for the work; two will come from Wallburg, two from Vernal and the others from points in Wyoming. The plan suggested for operations is to kill sheep all over the reserve. Then the sheep will be poisoned and traps used, as well as the arming the hunters with an abundance of ammunition. This concerted action, it is thought, will do much toward ridding the range of predatory animals.

HE NEEDED THE SHOES.

Carl Holm, a transient, was brought to Provo from Pleasant Grove last night on a charge of petit larceny to which he pleaded guilty before Justice of the Peace A. A. Noon, and as a result is now spending ten days in jail. The offender spent the night before in the city jail because he had no place else to go, and while making his way across the bench yesterday, stole a pair of shoes from a Mr. Baxter's wagon. His only excuse for stealing result of an attack of scarlet fever, which disease she suffered from years ago. The funeral was held Saturday afternoon from the Second ward mortuary.

V. S. PEET LECTURES.

V. S. Peet lectured last evening to a good sized audience in the First ward meetinghouse. His subject was the misrepresentation which ministers are indulging in against the people of Utah to raise means from the unsophisticated people of the east. His effort was much appreciated, although the subject was not a pleasant one, as our people are a peace-loving community, and would rather see our religious neighbors conduct their proselytizing in a fair and honorable manner instead of resorting to lying and misrepresentation in order to further their cause.

KANOSH.

PENNEYS TO BE BURIED HOME.

Remains of Murdered Father and Son Positively Identified.

Special Correspondence.

Kanosh, Millard Co., Oct. 21.—A second telephone message came to Mrs. Amanda Penney at 2 p. m. today, stating that the two bodies, supposed to be those of Ezra Penney, and his son George, were still in the grave where discovered, one crumpled, the other was lying on the top of the other, and they would not be further disturbed until after the arrival of the sheriff of Beaver county. Mrs. Penney's son Edward instructed his brother William Penney to come out prepared to convey the remains home to Kanosh.

There seems to be no doubt as to the identity of the skeleton remains, being identified by means of four bridged teeth in front of Ezra Penney's mouth, and by a heavy shawl and quilt in which the bodies had been wrapped when buried. The years' exposure to the elements had not destroyed the shawl or quilt.

There is every evidence to believe that the father and son were both murdered, as both were in one hole, one lying over the other, where they had been partly buried. More than a year ago there was found near Parowan, more than 50 miles distant, the father's wagon and harness, and the skeletons of the horses. The horses had been shot through the head. The seat of the wagon was covered with blood and

There was blood elsewhere which, under microscopic analysis, was proved to be human blood. The wagon and other things were covered with earth, as though in an effort to conceal them. They were found by a shepherd who, seeing a strap of harness protruding from the ground, pulled it out and disclosed the whole outfit.

How the wagon got to Parowan is a puzzle, but its presence at a distance so far remote from the scene of the murder is accounted for on the theory that the desperadoes, realizing that they could not escape by means of their victim's team, killed the horses and concealed the evidence with dirt and brush.

NEWS BRIEFS.

The Kanosh Arid Land & Cattle company is preparing to plant 600 acres of grain this fall. The district schools have been closed for the past three weeks, owing to an epidemic of scarlatina. Only one death has occurred, that of a 25-year-old child of William C. and Maggie Watts. When the large Reeves steam engine first came into town trailing the ponderous separator, a horse belonging to Anthony Whalcott became so frightened it tumbled, rose up on its hind legs and fell dead.
